Appendix 1: publication reporting metadata

Article coverage requirement	Will this criteria be met in annual reports? (YES / NO)	PUBLISHER responses and notes
The report should include all articles where the Relevant Author is affiliated with a participating IReL member institution. (The Relevant Author is usually the Corresponding Author, but this may vary by publisher.) It should NOT include articles from other Irish authors that are not affiliated with participating members.	YES
The report should include all articles with a Drawdown Date in the report year. (This is usually the Editorial Acceptance Date, but this may vary by publisher.) Note that this may including articles with YOP in the following year.	YES
Articles should be included regardless of whether they availed of the IReL agreement or not, including articles where the author opted out or where a limited quota was exceeded.	N/A	with the Touch-free workflow, the authors cannot opt out of OA publications. As for tokens (quota), they are unlimited.
Articles should be included regardless of their OA status.	YES
Articles should be included regardless of article type, i.e. both eligible and ineligible article types.	YES
Articles should be included from all journals from the publisher, i.e. articles from both eligible and ineligible journals.	YES
All data should be included in a single spreadsheet, i.e. no need for IReL to map and collate multiple files or tabs.	YES

Template field (please see the template for a README)	Publisher field name	IReL notes, questions and requests	Will this field (or equivalent) be included in annual reports? (YES / NO)	PUBLISHER notes, including: - caveats to data availability - answers to IReL questions
Reporting period start	Reporting period start	This will always be the same value for all rows. For example, a report covering the year of 2026 would have the value: 01/01/2026	Yes
Reporting period end	Reporting period end	Same as above, but the value would be: 31/12/2026	Yes
Publisher name	Publisher name		Yes
DOI	DOI		Yes

				Not always available (for retro articles, it will never be available). MISSING will be used where this data is not available.
Submission date	Submission date		Yes
				Not always available (for journals without system support, as yearbooks, articles are clustered in issues and all have the same acceptance date). In these cases, the online publication date will be used instead.
Editorial decision date	Editorial decision date		Yes
Publication date (first online date)	Publication date (first online date)		Yes
		Draw-down date refers to the date on which an OA article "token" is assigned to a specific agreement year. This can affect which yearly pot is used for limited quotas, and it can affect whether an article is within the final use-by date for both limited and unlimited deals. From my understanding, this should be "Editorial Acceptance Date" for De Gruyter Brill.

		In most cases, this is either "Closed" or a copy of the "Journal type" field below. I.e. a "Gold" article is an OA article in a Gold journal and a "S2O" article is an OA article in an S2O journal. Special cases may arise where an article is only free-to-read but doesn't have a CC license - we could call this "Bronze" regardless of the journal type.
Article OA level (Gold, Hybrid, Closed, S2O, Diamond, Bronze)	Article OA level (Gold, Hybrid, Closed, S2O, Diamond, Bronze)		Yes

Journal business model (Gold, Hybrid, S2O, Subscription-Only, Diamond)	Journal business model (Gold, Hybrid, S2O, Subscription-Only, Diamond)	Please include articles from the S2O journals in the same report and label these as S2O if they met the criteria for the relevant year.	Yes
